1. Family Homelessness

In Dublin at the end of June 2022, there were 990 families in emergency accommodation. 990 represents an increase of 18 on the May 2022 number, and an increase of 288 when compared with June 2021 when there were 702 families in emergency accommodation.

The number of children residing in emergency accommodation at the end of June was 2,274. This is an increase of 15 when compared to the May 2022 figure and 590 more than the June 2021 figure of 1,684.

1.1. Use of Commercial Hotels:

In line with the uptick in family homelessness, there has been an increase in the numbers of families using commercial hotels. By the end of June 2022, there were 169 families residing in commercial hotels. This compares with 84 in June 2021, an increase of 85 families, but represents a decrease of 8 families from 177 in May 2022. The highest level was in March 2017, when the number of families in commercial hotels reached 871.

Non-contract accommodation (previously known as self-accommodation) is now booked via DRHE. We are working with the other Local Authorities to develop alternatives to hotels with exits to housing the preferred option, followed by NGO-run Supported Temporary Emergency accommodation and contracted accommodation, where there are no available housing options.

There is still space for smaller families in supported accommodation but we are often reliant on commercial accommodation for larger family sizes or in locations where there are no/limited alternatives.

The percentage of families in the 0-6 and 6-12 month categories has increased compared with the same month last year, while the percentage of families in the 18-24 months and 24+ months categories has decreased slightly, reflecting a concerted effort to target families experiencing long term homelessness.

Lastly, I would like to acknowledge the upcoming retirement of Brother Kevin from the Capuchin Day Centre. He has been a modest but determined advocate for people in homelessness for many years and he will be greatly missed.
